

Hamilton: The Inventive Storytelling of a Musical Sensation

When: President's Day, February 18, 2019, 7:00PM

Where: WNMU Light Hall Auditorium

Price: Tickets are $10 and can be purchased at WNMU Hunter Hall.

Megan McQueen, NMSU Drama Professor, and dynamite actors are presenting key songs from the Broadway musical Hamilton. Megan will be introducing the setting and songs as well as discussing the team who created the Hamilton production and its impact on the arts. Choreography and design elements will be explained in this wonderful introduction to the most popular musical of the 21st Century. As an avid Broadway musical attendee, McQueen has spent much time learning about the musical "Hamilton" and attending it in NYC twice, as well as attending workshops with original cast members. McQueen has followed the composer since attending his first musical hit "In The Heights" in 2007, even before it went to Broadway.